Packed House Hear Excelsior Glee Party.

What was perhaps the most successful musical program ever put on in Didsbury was given by the Excelsior Glee Party of Calgary, on Thursday, under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge. The opera house was crowded to the doors and if applause and encores are any criterion the audience was more than satisfied with the concert.

Under the leadership of Mr. Glyndwr Jones, the glee party, which consisted of sixteen male voices, gave an excellent program of choruses, part songs, solos, duets and quartette. The chorus work was exceeding fine and the solos by the individual members of the party were well received and demanded an encore in almost every instance. The quartette "Southern Medley" by Messrs. Rhys, Arthur, Peacock and Jarvis was delightfully sung and received many favorable comments.

M. Harold Roberts gave a monologue which added variety to the program.

The piano which was used at the concert was loaned by Mrs. J. Clarke.

The Masons are to be congratulated on bringing to Didsbury such a fine aggregation of musicians.

The last meeting of the Mons Chapter, I. O. D. E. was held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Austin and was very eventful owing to two interesting presentations at the conclusion of the business meeting. The Regent, Mrs. Lowrie presented several pieces of Mikado Crown Derby to Mrs. Robinson (nee Vera Sexsmith) who had been secretary during 1929, and assured her that the good wishes of Mons Chapter would follow her to her new home. Mrs. Robinson thanked the Chapter and expressed her regret at leaving.

Mrs. Huget on behalf of the Chapter, then presented Mrs. Lowrie with two Crown Derby cups and saucers, as an appreciation of her work as Regent. Although taken by surprise, Mrs. Lowrie gracefully replied.

The remainder of the evening was spent at bridge, the prize being won by Mrs. McCloy. With the serving of lunch by the hostess, a pleasant evening was concluded.

Work Together For Prosperity

As a direct result of the partial crop failure experienced by the three prairie provinces last year, and the disastrous "break" in the stock markets which, although long predicted as inevitable, nevertheless caught thousands of people unawares and resulted in enormous losses to many, there developed a feeling of depression and uneasiness throughout Canada and the United States.

Coming in a year, during the first nine or ten months of which employment in Canada reached a higher peak than ever before in the history of the Dominion, with greater industrial activity, more development work done, and larger building programmes carried out, the country witnessed the paradox of a greater degree of unemployment when winter set in. Although seasonal, and therefore temporary in character, this situation added to the prevailing depression.

Finally, the world's wheat situation became the cause of deep anxiety and concern in Canada because of the fact that this Dominion is now the chief exporter of wheat among the countries of the world. Canada was not the only country which produced an abnormally large wheat crop in 1928, and when the Argentine crop was thrown on the market, it has to be marketed and sold as soon as it is harvested, a condition existed which necessitated either the holding of the Canadian crop, or selling it in competition with the Argentine at a price which would have yielded less than the actual cost of production. Wisely, the Wheat Pool and other Canadian exporters, supported by the banks, withheld their wheat from export unless, and until, a fair price was obtainable. As a result transportation interests suffered for the time being, export trade declined, and some uneasiness developed because of the unprecedented situation.

For a time the croakers, pessimists and preachers of blue ruin had their innings. And the more they talked, and bemoaned, the larger became the number of people inclined to shake their heads. Nevertheless, the economics of the situation were substantially sound. It was largely a "state of mind," a mental depression which afflicted many people.

If any one is inclined to challenge this statement, let him examine the situation more closely.

For example, the first day's showing of the new 1930 model by a well known manufacturer of automobiles in Canada and the United States brought in $20,000,000 in orders.

Despite the degree of unemployment existing in Canada, it is less than in any other country, and the actual number of those employed is greater than in any previous year.

The Canadian National Railways have placed, or shortly will place, orders for new equipment and embark on a programme of extensions, involving larger expenditures than in past years.

The C.P.R. has just announced a programme of extensions, betterments, and purchase of new equipment for 1930 involving the expenditure of $50,000,000.

All Western Governments are planning highway construction programmes in excess of anything attempted in any one year in the past.

Building programmes in the larger cities are in course of preparation which will equal, if not surpass, the high records of 1929, which outdistanced all former years.

There has not been a bank failure in Canada, all our large insurance and financial companies are sound, all our large industrial concerns are busy and prosperous, our mineral production increases in volume and value every year, the peace of the world never appeared more assured than at present.

Then what is there to worry about? Nothing. All the people have to do is to throw off their mental depression, and the fog will be lifted and dissipated.

Governments and Big Business are doing their share not only to keep the country busy and prosperous, but to speed up business and increase prosperity. It remains for the individual man and woman to do likewise. If each individual citizen does his or her share by tackling the particular piece of work close to their hands, 1930 will prove one of Canada's banner years.

Let every workman take a little keener interest in his job, throw a bit more energy into it, strive to perform somewhat better work, in a word, give the best possible value in work for the wages received, and the effect will be startling.

Let the farmer tackle his problem with renewed energy, and confidence will come. Every farm method improved, every vigorous onslaught on noxious weeds, every cow, pig or hen added to the farm, every little vegetable garden planted, will make for profit, contentment and progress.

New energy and enterprise by every merchant, the adoption of new and better methods, scrapping the old and obsolete and introducing something new and better, will make for progress, greater turn-overs, larger profits.

Let everybody work together for prosperity in 1930, and prosperity will be assured.

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

The latest thing in Rome is a bootleg newspaper. It is a 16-page tabloid sheet published in secret and distributed through the dark alleys of the Holy City by underground methods. It is anonymous and its humorous name is "Loud Speaker." It is filled with attacks upon Mussolini and the fascist government, giving news and alleged news which no licensed press would dare print. The Romans are amused, the police puzzled. The dictator's fury can be imagined.

WHY SUFFER FROM ANAEMIA

When Health and Strength Can Be Obtained Through Purifying the Blood

Anaemia is the medical term for thin, watery blood. The sufferer loses strength; becomes pale; is seized with shortness of breath and heart palpitation after the slightest exertion. The least work becomes a burden and life does not seem worth living. Anaemia is not a disease that can be neglected. Unless checked it will steadily grow worse. What is needed to combat this trouble is a good blood tonic, one that will go right to the root of the trouble and drive all impurities from the system. Such a tonic is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—that famous blood-builder and strength restorer.

Mrs. John Bain, Avenue Road, Toronto, Ont., for a number of years was in an anaemic condition and on finding relief through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, she wrote as follows:—

"For upwards of seven years I suffered from an anaemic condition. I was so pale my friends feared consumption. A year ago I was so ill I spent five months in the hospital. I had a terrible numbness in my hands and pains in my feet and legs. I was seized with dizzy spells and my heart would palpitate violently. I was so weak they gave me two blood transfusions, but even these did not help me. Eventually I came home from the hospital discouraged. I could do nothing for myself—life was a burden. A friend who came to see me strongly advised me to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. As I was anxious to try anything that might help me I procured a supply and began taking them. It was some time before I noticed any change in my condition, but gradually I could see a slight improvement. My color became better; my sleep sounder; my appetite more keen and the numbness in my hands and limbs gradually left me. I persisted in the use of the Pills and they made me a well woman again. I am now able to do my own work and shopping and have gained over eighteen pounds in weight. I feel perfectly safe in recommending these Pills to other sufferers."

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for Mrs. Bain they will do for other anaemic men and women. They act directly on the blood and in this way banish such troubles as anaemia, heart palpitation, nervousness and general debility. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Children suffering from worms soon show the symptoms, and any mother can detect the presence of these parasites by the writhings and fretting of the child. Until expelled and the system cleared of them, the child cannot regain its health. Miller's Worm Powders are prompt and efficient, not only for the eradication of worms, but also as a toner up for children that are run down in consequence.

Get Salary Boost

Nearly 1,000 Civil Servants Are To Get Wage Increase

Close to one thousand employees of the Dominion Government's income tax branch are gladdened by announcement of an increase in salary of $120 a year, effective from April 1, when the new fiscal year will begin. This applies to the service from Halifax to Vancouver, or at least to those who have not already received such an advance.

Adding Insult To Injury

The gigantic truck had collided with a minute private car.

"You fool!" shouted the owner of the latter, jumping out and shaking his fist at the truck driver. "Do you mean to tell me that you couldn't see me coming on a straight road like this?"

The other smiled. "I'm sorry," he said. "It couldn't be helped. You see, I thought your car was a fly on my windshield."

Calgary Aviator Succeeds In Two-Way Hop Across Rockies' Highest Peaks

Back from a daring flight from Calgary to Vancouver across the highest peaks of the Canadian Rockies, Flying Officer W. L. Rutledge, Calgary aviator, brought his Curtis-Robin monoplane to earth at the municipal airport. He was accompanied by Percy J. K. Payne, secretary-treasurer of Rutledge Air Service, Limited.

The flier quashed the belief that a forced landing in the mountains meant death. There were many places where a forced landing could be made and many others where landing fields could be built.

No longer need the mountains be barriers in the development of aviation between the prairies and coast cities, he said. An air mail and passenger service could be operated, he said, and the trip between the two cities made in four hours.

The time of the flight from Merritt, B.C., where the aviators were delayed for a few days because of bad weather, was three hours and five minutes, covering slightly over 300 miles.

Italian Chemist Refused To Tell Of Valuable Preparation

Although in dire straits and hardly able to pay for a meal a day, Francesco Rocchi, the noted Italian artist-chemist, always refused to divulge his secret chemical preparation to cure "cancer-of-bronze," a mysterious disease which eats bronze. The professor had also discovered a cure that arrested the decay of old paintings. Although he was repeatedly offered huge sums of money, for his invention, he consistently refused to divulge them. A few days ago he died of starvation.

Winners In Wheat Competitions Distributed Widely Throughout Wheat Growing Area In West

The successes of Western Canadian farmers in international wheat competition, within a period of nineteen years since the institution of the award in 1911, constitute one of the most impressive features in the records of Canadian agriculture. On fifteen occasions, the Dominion's representatives won against all North America with exhibits of hard red spring wheat and in addition in two other years they carried off the prize for the best hard red spring wheat, although in the two years just referred to they lost the grand championship to hard red winter wheat by a narrow margin. The work of these master farmers has brought them high personal distinction, for the winning of such competitions is, first and foremost, a tribute to the talent of the exhibitor. But their work has done more than that—it has brought renown to the west, and to the whole Dominion.

And it is a matter of gratification that this notable series of successes has not been monopolized within any restricted area. As the accompanying map indicates, the locations of the Canadian winners of the highest honours in North American wheat competitions are remarkably well and widely distributed throughout the vast area of wheat-growing territory in the Canadian West. The Prairie Provinces furnish a far-flung habitat for wheat of premier quality.

Shows Development Of West

Last Year's "Small" Crop Would Have Been Bumper Ten Years Ago

"How far the development in Western Canada has proceeded in recent years may be realized by noting the size of the wheat crop (270,000,000 bushels), that we now refer to as a small one. In no year previous to the war was any such production attained, and with the exception of 1915, when crop yields per acre were extraordinarily large, it was not until 1921 that Western Canada produced so large a quantity of wheat," points out Hon. T. A. Crerar in a signed statement.

"For the 10 years ended in 1920, the West's annual production of wheat averaged 214,000,000 bushels but for the four years which ended in 1923, the average production was 425,000,000 bushels. Before 1915, the acreage of lands in Western Canada devoted to wheat did not exceed 11,000,000 acres, but in 1929 it was almost 25,000,000. Including land under crops, summer-fallow and temporary pastures, over 50,000,000 acres are now under cultivation in the West."

May Make Tour Of Europe

The new British airship, R-100, will not be flown to Canada until the spring. Whether the giant vessel will be kept in its hangar in the meantime is doubtful. The suggestion is being put forward that she should make a comprehensive tour of Europe, which would enable her crew to gain further experience in the handling of the great vessel.

An Important Agent

Fanning Mill Is Great Help In Getting Ready For Seeding

It will not be long before most farmers begin to think about getting the seed oats ready before the spring rush starts and there is no more important agent in this preparation than the fanning mill. Yet it is doubtful if any piece of farm machinery gets more abuse in a year than this necessary piece of equipment.

The work of the mill is three-fold—by the air to blow out useless impurities and light grain, by the riddles to carry over large grain of foreign varieties, and by the sieves to grade the grain to size and remove weed seeds. If, through neglect or abuse, the mill is unable to carry out one or more of these functions its usefulness is minimized.

It is a good plan to check over the sieves to make sure that they have not suffered too seriously since last fall or when they were last used, and it is important that any repairs incidental to the fans be attended to. A machine which has some fans missing is reduced in efficiency to the extent as it is lacking in these parts.

One of the most important items to keep in mind while the grain is being run through the mill, is that a rush job is no job, and to get the best results the grain must be fed down from the hopper at a reasonably slow rate of speed.

Viscount Willingdon is greatly interested in the breeding of Jerseys, and stocked them on his farm in England.

Canada's Total Yield Of Wheat For 1929 Is Placed At 299,520,000 Bushels

The total yield of wheat in Canada in 1929 is estimated at 299,520,000 bushels, from 25,255,002 acres, according to the annual crop report recently issued by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics. This is 267,206,000 bushels less than the yield in 1928. Last year's oats crop totalled 282,838,300 bushels or over 170,000,000 bushels less than the previous year. The 1929 yield of barley was 102,313,300 bushels which was about 34,000,000 bushels below the production in 1928. Of the total yields of these three crops the prairie provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta—grew 276,664,000 bushels of wheat; 141,620,000 bushels of oats, and 79,787,000 bushels of barley. Reduced production is due to unusual climate conditions in 1929.

University Of B.C. Will Offer About Forty Head For Sale

Decision of the British Columbia Government to curtail the expenditure on the agricultural department of the University of British Columbia has caused the University authorities to decide on a sale of purebred Jerseys and Ayrshires on March 5. The exact number to be offered has not yet been fully decided, but it is expected that at least 40 head will be put up. The offering will include the progeny of the imported Ayrshire herd, six bulls and four heifers, all sired by some of the most noted bulls in Scotland. The Jerseys are all of the University's breeding. In addition to the cattle, ten head of purebred Clydesdales of the University's breeding, mostly mares and fillies, will also be offered.

Canada's Wool Production

Larger Production Shown In 1929 Than In Previous Year

The total production of wool in Canada in 1929, is estimated at 21,234,000 pounds, as compared with 19,611,430 pounds in 1928, and the value provisionally at $1,247,000, as compared with $5,099,000 in the previous year. Ontario was the largest producer of wool last year among the provinces of Canada, with 6,300,000 pounds, followed by Quebec with 5,498,000 pounds; Alberta, 3,054,000; Nova Scotia, 1,534,000; Saskatchewan, 1,192,000; British Columbia, 1,156,000; Manitoba, 1,015,000; New Brunswick, 866,000; Prince Edward Island, 553,000; and Indian Reserves, 16,000.

Young Quebec Goes Exploring

"Ti Bonhomme," (The Little Tad) is away with his sled and he doesn't care where he winds up. He is rehearsing his part in the great Winter Ice Pageant to be held at Quebec this month. Weather means nothing to him; so long as it is cold weather and as for zero, well, the more it zeroes the more he likes it. He is dressed for the part and would not be out of place in the Byrd expedition. At present he is emulating "Jeff," lead dog in the mush team of Arthur Beauvais, and is practising for the International Dog Derby later in February, though he will not likely figure among the entrants. Imagination is however the main thing and doubtless the bracing air of Quebec gives it a zip.

Alberta Fur Production

From July 1st, 1928, to June 30th, 1929, inclusive, the fur production in the Province of Alberta amounted to 1,669,562 pelts, valued at $2,473,191.40. The fur produced during the same period of the previous year was valued at $1,661,691.50. Exports during the period totalled 1,622,693 pelts, valued at $3,871,797.80.

BIRTH REGISTRY

It is surprising how often the births of children go unregistered. The parents have neglected registration and an individual may not discover the neglect till manhood. Then occasion may rise when he needs it badly and is put to all sorts of trouble and delay in securing it.

An instance, small in itself, but indicative of this general neglect is shown in the fact that quite a proportion of the boys in the local junior hockey team, learned, on making application at Edmonton, that their births had not been registered. They began to wonder if they really did exist, had ever existed or were only imaginary bodies. It has tied up their entrance into league play-offs.

Birth certificates may be demanded for:

1. Proof of citizenship: to obtain a passport for travelling outside the country.
2. Proof of age on occasions when it is demanded.
3. Establishment of identity and parentage.

Even in case of old age pensions, which is, to say the least, looking far ahead, birth certificates are necessary.

Every province required the registration of births, and Edmonton depends upon this for many of the statistics of the province.

It is the duty of all parents to safeguard their children in this way, and if there is any uncertainty as to whether or not their children have been registered, it would be a good move to write to Edmonton at once and find out for certain.

WATCH YOUR STEP!

Don't fail ever to look before you leave the sidewalk; and be quite sure of where you want to go before moving from the comparative safety of the curb. Even on a quiet street, don't swing out into the middle unexpectedly.

Don't be too trustful of the motorist's ability to dodge you. Bad training, insufficient experience, faulty brakes or a greasy road may prove your trust to have been misplaced. Or the motorist may succeed in dodging you—and skid into a crowd of school children.

Don't imagine when a motorist toots at you from behind that he is ordering you off the road. His sole desire is to make sure that you know he is coming, and will not make some move that he cannot foresee. Help him by giving some indication that you have heard. Incidentally, you will be a public benefactor by preventing him tooting some more.

And now a few words of advice to Purchase of the Algonia Eastern Railway by the Canadian Pacific Railway is announced by E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the latter company. The property runs between Little Current and Sudbury and its purchase is subject to approval of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific and to ratification by shareholders at the annual meeting to be held May 7 next.

For several years Canada has led the world in aerial surveying and last year consolidated that leadership by applying, for the first time in any country, aerial methods to geodetic reconnaissance and transportation. Around 70,000 square miles were covered by aerial photographs last year by the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Canadian Government Department of the Interior.

Canadian Investments abroad at the end of 1928 totalled $1,579,074,000, according to a recent official estimate. Of this amount $874,626,000 is invested in the United States; $121,015,000 in Great Britain; and $572,533,000 in other countries.

Available horsepower in Canada is 20,197,000 horse power under conditions of ordinary minimum flow and 33,113,000 horse power under conditions of ordinary six months flow. Only about 6,000,000 horse power has been harnessed.

The first Canadian woman Senator, Hon. Cairine McKay Wilson, is the mother of eight children ranging in age from 20 to 4. Prior to the appointment there was doubt as to whether women could legally be appointed to the Senate and the question was carried to the Privy Council which held that women were persons and therefore entitled to sit.

About 12½ million meals a year are served to travellers by the Canadian Pacific that is to say, 37,000 meals every day or 259,000 every week. This gigantic total is made up of about 4,200,000 in dining cars and station restaurants; 4,500,000 on Atlantic or Pacific steamships; 1,250,000 on Island and coastal steamers; and 2,500,000 in the company's hotels and bungalow camps.

"It takes a heap o' living in a house to make it home," and this wise-old saying is forcefully brought to mind when the motion picture "Transformation" is shown at the Didsbury theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 14th and 15th under the auspices of the Atlas Lumber Company.

The picture is unusually strong in human interest, presenting as it does a problem which is probably facing more than one farm family in this community, the problem of how to keep its boys and girls on the farm. It was a sad, sad morning when Farmer Davis' son, Dick, smarting at the thought of opportunities he fancies he was missing to carve a career for himself in some big metropolitan motor factory, rises in his righteous youthful wrath, takes his fate in his hands and informs the family that he is through with life on the farm.

And then comes the winsome little sister, Sue, flaming in her flapper indignation, to stand bravely beside her brother and add her drop of gall to the misery of dear old dad and mother. She, too, has been dazzled by the bright lights of cross-roads jazz palaces and has determined to get out of the backwoods and into a city where people "live."

Have you ever faced that dilemma in your own family circle? Undoubtedly it is true that in every rural community in Canada just like that are scenes enacted all too frequently.

"Is there anything about this old house to make me want to spend my evening's here?" scornfully the independent little country miss asks her tearful parents at the family council.

And thus is born the great plan to make the old farm house, with its sagging roof, unpainted, weather-beaten walls and generally dilapidated rundown appearance, into an attractive, modern home which nobody wants to leave.

You will find it difficult to recognize the "old Davis place" when the marvelous transformation which the parents contrive to make for the sake of the children, is all completed.

The actual remodeling of a farm house is shown in the picture and it will certainly bring a new vision of the wonders that can be wrought by lumber and pant intelligently employed to make and beautify what seemed at first to be a hopelessly worn-out old farm dwelling.

There's a "villain" of course, in the story, but you'll be glad when Joe Brown, the fearless, stalwart young country agent, with a well-directed blow, sends him reeling, splashing into the slimy creek. That opens Sue's eyes and there will be cheers when she sensibly decides to take down the "For Sale" sign because—well, you know, maybe some day Joe'll be needing somewhere to go. Don't miss seeing "Transformation."

THREE REASONS FOR SUCCESS

If, as Ottawa claims, 4,000,000 American tourists crossed the border into Canada last year and spent $75 each while in this country, this is one profitable "deal" we make with our uncle and one that he does not charge us 100 percent duty on.

If Canadians would only spend fifty per cent of the money on Made-in-Canada goods that they now spend on imported goods, there would be created fully 100,000 more jobs in Canada, and these jobs would help wonderfully to keep the home fires going in this good country of ours.

If business executives and labor executives would only get together and sit around a conference table, and take each other into their confidence, without resorting to harsh words, we are sure that during the year 1930 there would be no losses in Canada through strikes. We believe Canadians generally are sympathetic to each other and the spirit of co-operation for the benefit of all would prevail if each made an honest endeavor.—Labor Leader (Toronto).

Prizes aggregating $4,250 will be among the trophies to be competed for in the International Dog Sled Derby to be held at Quebec City, February 20-22. Teams entering will cover a course of about 40 miles each day making a total of around 121 miles in all. This is the high light in the Quebec Winter Sports season beginning late in December and continuing until March. The event terminates with the Dog Derby Masquerade Ball at the Chateau Frontenac which hostelry is headquarters of the sports season. All the most prominent dog mushers of the continent figure or have figured at one time or another in the Derby and it is generally regarded as the biggest thing of its kind in America. Since 1922 when the contest had its inception, times have been consistently cut down. In that year the course was completed in 15 hours, 36 minutes, but last year Leonard Seppala, hero of the dash to Nome, made it in 11 hours, six minutes, 33 seconds. Oldest Steamship Company The Cunard Line Is Celebrating Its 90th Anniversary Of Service

What seasoned mariners consider to be a remarkable feat was the Cunarder "Mauretania's" recent fast mid-winter crossing between New York and England, which was accomplished in 4 days, 23 hours and 3 minutes, at an average speed of 25.42 knots. This time figured from New York to Eddystone lighthouse, Plymouth, is only a few hours longer than the "Mauretania's" best time of 4 days, 17 hours and 50 minutes, at an average speed of 27.22 knots registered between the same points, last August. In view of the severe gales that have been experienced recently, which have made even express liners between 2 and 3 days late, this fast crossing will probably stand as the most outstanding on the high seas this winter.

It is interesting to note that this year the Cunard Line celebrates its 90th anniversary, which recalls to mind the exploits of that great Canadian, Samuel Cunard, founder of the Cunard Line, the oldest steamship company operating on the trans-Atlantic route. Born at Halifax in 1787, of humble United Empire Loyalist stock, he directed his business abilities at an early age towards shipping. Commencing by buying and selling captured enemy prizes and their cargoes, and rapidly extending his business, he was, at the age of 27 engaged in the forwarding of mail to Newfoundland. Shortly afterwards he was distributor of Her Majesty's mails in Canada, the United States, Newfoundland and Bermuda, which he transported in his fleet of 10-gun brigs.

1831 he became interested in the advent of steam shipping, heading the list of subscribers who built the "Royal William," the first vessel to cross the Atlantic under her own steam. Fired with the possibilities of the future of steam propulsion, he conceived the idea of applying this new method of locomotion to his own ships. Samuel Cunard, who was at that time well known on both sides of the Atlantic as a genius of business, and a man whose 40 ships provided the Maritimes with one of the chief sources of their activities, left for England in 1838, in response to a missive received from the lord commissioners of the admiralty, inviting him to submit tenders for the conveyance of Her Majesty's mails to the North American continent.

After experiencing some little difficulty in raising sufficient capital to embark on his ambitious enterprise, he was finally awarded the contract, and gave orders for the construction of four paddle-wheel steamers of the following dimensions: 1154 gross tons, length 207 feet, breadth 34 feet 2 inches, depth 21 feet 4 inches, with a horse power of 740, and a speed of 8.5 knots. These vessels were known as the "Britannia," "Acadia," "Columbia," and were to be delivered in 1840 to carry on the mail contract awarded to Cunard's company, known at that time as the British and North American Royal Mail Steam Packet Company. Perhaps the best known and most easily remembered of these vessels was the famous old "Britannia," which was the first Cunarder to cross the Atlantic under her own steam.

One of the proudest moments in Cunard's life was on July 4th, 1840, when he set sail from Liverpool on board the "Britannia" on its inaugural run for Halifax and Boston, the forerunner of the present great fleet of Cunarders, totalling today nearly a million tons of shipping. After battling with the hazards of the Atlantic for 13 days, he triumphantly steamed into Halifax harbour on the morning of the 17th, finally arriving in Boston a few hours later, where he was acclaimed by the populace for his outstanding achievement, receiving no less than nearly 2,000 dinner invitations during the first day of his arrival in Boston.

Samuel Cunard lived to see his great conception take practical form, and was knighted by the British Government for services rendered during the Crimean War. He died in 1865 at the age of 78, when his son Edward followed in his footsteps.

Entering upon its 90th anniversary of steady progress in a life of service to the public, the present-day Cunard Line with its palatial "Berengaria," stately "Aquitania," and speedy "Mauretania," aptly described as the greyhound of the Atlantic; together with a large fleet of consort vessels, maintain a regular service between the principal ports of Great Britain and the North American continent.

Officials of the company commented recently on the satisfactory progress made during the past year when many thousands of passengers were conveyed to and from Europe with regularity and safety by the many services of the Cunard Line and its associated companies, which showed a big increase over numbers carried during the preceding years. It is with a confidence begotten of long years of experience, that the oldest steamship company operating on the Atlantic services, looks forward to an even greater era of progress in the years to come.

Britain Needs Largest Navy. Has Greatest Mercantile Marine and Longest Trade Routes In World

Whatever industries may be depressed in Britain, shipbuilding, which is one of the staple industries, and which gives employment to a huge number of men in other trades, is not one of them.

According to the latest returns of Lloyd's Register, the aggregate world tonnage on the stocks at the present time is 3,110,880. Of this amount, 1,560,254 tons are being built in British shipyards—more than all the rest of the world put together.

For more than two hundred years Great Britain has been the maritime nation of the world. Britain has built more ships, has more ships in the water, and has eight times longer trade routes than any other nation on earth.

Whatever sacrifices Britain makes at the naval conference in order to arrive at an understanding—and she has already made greater sacrifices than any other power around the table—the fact should not be forgotten that she has the greatest mercantile marine in the world and the longest trade routes. That being so, she does need a navy commensurate with the policing of those routes to protect her food imports, without which she would starve in two months.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald was right when he said at the opening of the naval conference: "The navy; it is us."

Wealthy Americans United States Has Two Billionaires and About Forty Thousand Millionaires

The United States has one or two billionaires, and about 40,000 millionaires, according to statistics of income for 1928, issued by the treasury department.

The statistics showed that of this number 496 persons paid income tax on annual incomes that totalled more than $1,000,000 during 1928, the largest number in this class of wealth ever reported. In 1927, there were about 230 persons paying taxes on incomes of more than $1,000,000.

Turkey Has Queer Problem Asking For Help To Rid Country Of Wild Hogs

The Turkish Government has asked the Merchants' Association, of New York, to put it in touch with an individual or an organization to undertake the killing of Turkey's wild hogs. A concession for the killing and exportation of the hogs may be arranged.

It was explained at the Turkish consulate that the religion of the natives does not permit them to eat swine. The wild hogs have roamed free and are now a serious nuisance.

Co-Operative Packing Plants

Farmers in Western Canada are becoming more and more favourable to a wider extension of the policy of co-operative marketing. Co-operative packing houses in the cities of Lethbridge, Calgary, and Edmonton, are to be established by the Alberta Livestock Pool. The original idea was for a centralized co-operative plant at Calgary, but this has been abandoned in favor of the three plants serving the southern, central and northern sections of the province.

Needless Pain!
 Nowdays, people take Aspirin for many little aches and pains, and as often as they encounter any pain. Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works! And Aspirin tablets are absolutely harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that; they do not depress the heart. So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to an Aspirin tablet for relief. Aspirin is always available, and it never fails to help. Familiarize yourself with its many uses, and avoid a lot of needless suffering.

Charman remembered, too, the first time her grandmother had been persuaded to ride in "that infernal contraption" as she called the car. It had taken much urging on the part of both Charman and the doctor, and it was not without misgivings that she at last consented to ride to Portland to see an oculist. She returned at supper time, bright-eyed with enthusiasm.

"It's like flying!" she exclaimed. "I felt like a bird, skimming along so fast. Why, when I remembered how long it took your grandfather and me to drive it, once in a dog's age, well, I just can't believe I've been gone, and got back as quickly as this!"

After that she needed no persuading when the doctor stopped to take her on his rounds; but of late years the rheumatism had been worse, and it seemed easier to sit in the shop window and "watch the world go by" as she quaintly put it.

Charman's reminiscences were interrupted by the sound of the doctor's car, and immediately after Grandma rapped a summons with Great-grandfather Davis's gold-headed cane which she kept near her for that purpose. The girl paused in the kitchen to set the kettle forward, and when she reached the front room Grandma was peering from the window.

"It's Jim Bennett, just gone by in a new car!" she announced eagerly. "He had that Clara Darling with him—the girl who's staying at the Osmonds. I knew her by the hat. It's bright green—emerald green, I call it. I never saw its like in Wickfield, and no good'll come of it, mark my words!"

Charman laughed merrily and said: "It seems to have made an impression upon Jim! He escorted it to the church social last evening."

"And you never told me!" Grandma replied reproachfully; and added: "It's his mother's doings."

"That gorgeous hat?" asked Charman, who enjoyed teasing the old lady on occasions.

"You know well enough what I mean," retorted Grandma. "Jim's a good boy, but he's considerable under his mother's thumb, and she's set her heart on his making a good match. Well, there was a time, when your grandfather was living, that the Davises would have turned up their noses at a Bennett."

"Perhaps that day is not past," replied Charman, an amused smile lighting her blue eyes because she knew that this irate statement of her grandmother's wasn't exactly true. The Bennetts were as good as anybody.

Grandma looked up at her suspiciously. "You're not telling me," she began, when Charman laughed and answered the unvoiced question:

"Of course not! I wouldn't hurt his feelings for the world; but I'll confess Grandma, that if Jim should—well—pop the question, I'd suspect that he'd rehearsed the scene beforehand with his mother. There'd be no romance."

Grandma chuckled; then her face sobered.

"But he's a good boy," she repeated. "You might do worse, Charman, even with Sarah Bennett thrown in."

"And I might do better," responded Charman, opening a drawer of the highboy and straightening a spool of thread. "I'm planning to marry a million dollars, Grandma, and spend every penny on this old house. Besides, you've forgotten the green hat. It has cut me out."

Grandma snorted and turned to the window.

"Here comes Lizzie Baker," she commented. "I wonder does she ever step outside without an apron. She's coming here. Like as not she wants to borrow something. The borrowing Bakers is what Father Davis always called them. Good morning, Lizzie," as a portly woman stepped into the hall. "Were you wanting something?"

"Just a pinch o' sody." From beneath her starched white apron Lizzie Baker produced a small tin cup. "I got all set to mix my biscuits," she continued, "and found there wasn't a mite o' sody in the house."

Handing the cup to Charman she sank down breathless in a convenient rocker. Miss Lizzie was always breathless. "Jim Bennett's went and got a brand new car," she announced importantly. "And according to some—"

She lowered her voice, but Charman, who had started toward the kitchen, came back to say, a glint of fun hiding in her eyes: "And a new girl, Miss Lizzie?"

"Dear me, suz!" exclaimed the caller, "I thought you'd gone. Well, I'll say this, Charman: That girl ain't a patch on you for looks, if her clothes did come all the way from Boston. That hat now—(Sarah Bennett was braggin' that it came clear from Chicago and was bought by mail)—there's something almost sinful about such a hat. It's showy."

"But it's becoming," defended Charman. "You can't deny it."

"Maybe 'tis. I ain't no special judge o' that; but don't you think her mouth's a mite too small to be real comfortable? As James Bennett used to say: 'It's not safe to trust a woman with a small mouth.' And she she ain't got your nose, either!"

"Charman's got the Chadwick nose," said Grandma proudly. "It's a handsome nose, male or female, if I do say it."

"Dear me!" said Charman, rubbing a thoughtful finger down the bridge of the feature under discussion. "I didn't know that noses possessed gender. But I'm glad it's handsome," she added as she turned away.

When she returned the two women ceased talking so abruptly that the girl felt sure she was the subject of their conversation. Miss Lizzie drew a deep breath, and proceeded to extricate her portly frame from the depths of the comfortable rocker.

"Well, I'm obliged," she said, reaching for the soda. "I don't know what I'd do without my neighbors. Some like livin' on a back road that ain't dusty; but I say, give me dust—and neighbors every time. I can't keep house without 'em."

"And she couldn't," agreed Grandma, when Miss Lizzie had closed the door behind her. "She's got no memory. None of the Bakers were extra strong in the upper story, as Father used to say; but she's a good soul and means well, which is almost better."

"Does she consider that I am bearing up cheerfully under my disappointment?" asked Charman with a smile.

"She didn't say," admitted Grandma, "but she's terribly mad at Sarah Bennett though they've been friends since they were girls. The airs that Sarah put on last night when Jim came to the social with that girl, were almost unbearable—according to Lizzie. She said that when she saw you sitting beside the minister's wife, just like a settled down old maid, her blood boiled in her veins."

Charman sank down in the chair Miss Lizzie had just vacated, and laughed till the tears came.

"Poor dear old soul!" she said at last. "I didn't realize that I had such a champion. But I didn't feel the least bit like an old maid, Grandma; and as for Jim, he didn't look real happy, it seemed to me."

"And he'd better not be!" retorted Grandma with indignation. "He ought to be ashamed, if you ask me, running after a girl like that, and leaving you to sit with Mrs. Merry, for all the world as if you were a stranger!"

"But I love Mrs. Merry," assured Charman. "I wanted to sit with her. Come, Grandma! you mustn't be unreasonable. Jim isn't the only boy in town."

"Maybe not," admitted Grandma grudgingly, "but since George K's boys have left, he's the most likely. And hasn't he always beamed you out before?" she asked, as if that settled it.

Charman laughed.

"Perhaps for that very reason he yearns for some variety. Forget it, Grandma. It's the least of my troubles. Now listen. I've something far more important to talk about. You'd never in the wide world guess what I've done. If only I succeed in making a good impression, I've—I've taken a boarder!"

CHAPTER III.

For once Grandma forgot the passing. Her eyes left the window to rest upon her granddaughter in amazement and consternation.

Charman Davis, have you taken leave of your senses? Who'd get her dinner? She'd be a nuisance. I won't have her!"

"He isn't a she," responded Charman, enjoying to the full the old lady's indignation. "Perhaps he will be a nuisance, but if his boarding here will help the doctor—"

"What's Edward Howe got to do with it?" interrupted Grandma, giving a swift survey to the street to be sure that nothing of importance was going on.

"Everything," replied Charman, and proceeded to repeat most of what the old man had told her.

"Well," Grandma commented, leaning back in her chair and drawing a deep breath, "it—it beats the Dutch! How old is he, dearie? I hope he's old enough to know his business."

"The doctor called him a boy; but he knows his business, you may be sure, or he wouldn't trust us to him."

"Trust us to him!" echoed Grandma indignantly. "Do you suppose I'd let him lay a hand on me? Well, it'll be a great change for us, Charman. It's all of seventeen years since we've had a man in the house. I hope he's not untidy. Sometimes menfolks make a terrible lot of work around a place. And they eat hearty. You'll have to get him something hot for supper. Shall we give him the east chamber?"

High Price To Pay

Little Mary, who had fallen ill, begged for a kitten.

It was found that an operation was necessary for the child's cure and that she must go to the hospital. Her mother promised that if she were very brave she would have the very finest kitten to be found.

"It's a rotten way to get a kitten."

Commercializing the Radio

People Get Tired Of Program Consisting of Advertisements

The fact is being widely deplored that undue commercial use is being made of the radio. Under the pretence of giving a concert on the air—an hour of radio—most of the time is taken up by announcements and propaganda of all kinds. Listeners in bear with abuses of this kind for a certain time in the hope that, finally, they will hear something that is enjoyable and instructive; but in many instances they indignantly shut off the radio. In these circumstances the Government of the Province of Quebec is to be heartily congratulated upon its initiative which assures radio fans one hour of music and instruction on two evenings of the week.

DO NOT LET YOUR BABY SUFFER

Baby's Own Tablets Are Just the Help He Needs

At the cost of a few cents every mother can add to her own happiness and to her children's safety, for, while the cost of Baby's Own Tablets is small the value of these Tablets to every home where there are little ones is exceedingly great. What mother does not suffer when her little ones are suffering—when they are undergoing the tortures of the teething period, the agonies of constipation and indigestion, or the miseries brought on by colds or simple fevers? What mother can sleep when her child does not sleep? She can banish these troubles, however, and in banishing them she is making a happy household, for the happy child makes everyone else happy.

To banish childhood suffering Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the home. They are recognized the world over as an absolutely safe and efficient remedy for little ones. They are a mild but thorough laxative and through their action on the stomach and bowels never fail to banish any of the minor ills of little ones. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Fastest Motor In World

Fastest motor in the world, the Golden Arrow, in which Sir Henry Seagrave went 231 miles an hour, was owned by Mr. H. S. Horne, London, who recently went bankrupt. Sir Charles Wakefield, the oil magnate, bought it and gave it to the South Kensington Museum. The car cost originally between $50,000 and $60,000.

Persistent Asthma. A most distressing characteristic of this debilitating disease, is the persistence with which recurring attacks come to sap away strength and leave the sufferer in a state of almost continual exhaustion. No wiser precaution can be taken than that of keeping at hand a supply of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, famous as the most potent remedy for eradicating the disease from the tender air passages.

Speedy Radio Program

Travelled 20,000 Miles In About One-Eighth Of Second

A radio program travelled approximately 20,000 miles in about one-eighth of a second.

The program was broadcast from W2XAF, the experimental short wave station of the General Electric Company, Schenectady, N.J., picked up by VK2ME a short wave station in Sydney, Australia, and rebroadcast back to Schenectady, where it was picked up and transferred to WGY the General Electric Company's regular station, and again rebroadcast.

Company engineers said it was the first time to their knowledge such a feat had been performed over so great a distance.

All mothers can put away anxiety regarding their suffering children when they have Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to give relief. Its effects are sure and lasting.

Couldn't Be Done

A buxom farm lass was, upon one occasion, called as a witness in a case in a Yorkshire county court. The girl happened to mention that her sweetheart knew something about the matter. "Oh," said the judge, "then I think we had better call him to court!" The girl blushed furiously. "It won't be any good, sir," she protested. "Ah'm fair put to it to get him to court when we're alone, an Ah'm sure he won't do it before all you gentlemen!"

Little Helps For This Week

"Who hath despised the day of small things?"—Zechariah iv. 10.

Free men freely work, Whoever fears God, fears to sit at ease.

Let us be content in work To do the thing we can, and not presume

To fret because it's little.

—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Begin with small things. You cannot enter the presence of another human being without finding there more to do than you or I, or any soul, will ever learn to do perfectly before we die. Let us be content to do little, if God sets us at little tasks. It is but pride and self-will which says, "Give me something huge to fight, and I should enjoy that; but why make me sweep the dust?"

Sounds Uncomfortable

A banquet, we believe, is a showy sort of meal where the speaker eats a lot of food he doesn't want and then proceeds to talk about something he doesn't understand to a crowd of people who don't care to hear him.

Persian Balm is a sheer delight to use. Cools and relieves irritations caused by weather conditions. Imparts a rare charm and beauty to the complexion. Fragrant and velvety smooth. The Trade Mark

Two Irish private soldiers, walking along one of the main thoroughfares in Glasgow, observed the notice, in gigantic type, in a shop window, "Butter! Butter!! Butter!!! "Pat," said Mike, "what is the meaning of them big strokes after the words?" "Och, ye ignoramus!" said Pat. "Sure, they are meant for shillelaghs to show it's rale Irish butter!"

Dear Elmer,

Spring is just around the corner and I suppose you will naturally be thinking of the good times you expect to have this summer.

Let me give you a tip! If you want a good time this summer purchase a good car and you and the
Mrs. will be surprised the places you will go and the small expense attached.

I bought a used Chev coupe from ADSHEAD'S GARAGE last summer and took 8000 miles out of it at practically no expense. If you buy from them you can be sure that what you get is all they say it is and the guarantee they put on it will be lived up to.

The car I bought was the car you used to own and it was all they said it was. I often wonder why you parted with it.

Best wishes for the future,

JOE.

has arranged to have the display of students' work on the afternoon of Saturday, March 22nd. The closing exercises will be on Friday, March 28th. Articles that have been made by students during the fall and winter months are assembled and put on display for a period of one-half day. The idea of the display is to provide an opportunity for the students and visitors to view the work that has been accomplished in the practical exercises at the school.

The closing exercises at the school mark the conclusion of the five months school year in both the Agriculture and Domestic Science two-year courses. The diplomas are presented to the second year students who are successful in their year's work, prizes and scholarships are awarded, addresses by leading public men are delivered and a musical program is interspersed between the various parts of the program.

Both the display and the closing exercises are open to the public of the province. The occasions provide very interesting and instructive entertainment and are well worth attending.

DDD for skin disorders

An active fluid that washes into the sick tissues. Clear, stainless, its soothing elements penetrate, itching stops on the instant—eruptions disappear.
The treatment has no rival.
